Editorial

En la semana 6, que concluyó el 11 de febrero recién pasado, se alcanzaron 80.394 toneladas exportadas. Todavía faltan unas pocas semanas para concluir la temporada y es probable que el volumen final se acercará al de la temporada pasada que culminó con 87.530 Ton. La fruta tardía de Chile fue menos afectada por los problemas climáticos, dando sorpresas en volumen y madurando con normalidad, lo que ha permitido este mayor volumen de exportación.

80,394 tons were exported in week 6, which ended on February 11th. There are still a few weeks left in the season and it is likely that the final volume will be close to that of last season which ended with 87,530 Ton. Chile's late fruit was less affected by climatic problems, giving surprises in volume and ripening normally, which has allowed this greater export volume.
